

Standard placement dates for 2025

As securing placements relies on the willingness of schools/centres to provide placements, these dates should be regarded as indicative until confirmation is provided by the Placements, Partnering & Operations Team (PPO). Where placements are unable to be provided to individual students in these dates, the placement team will communicate with you and negotiate alternative dates.

The Course Year corresponds to full time students progressing 'normally' through their course, as described by the relevant course map. *Total Placement length and dates may vary, depending on your course requirements.

Part-time, teach-out or students who have transitioned to a new course will undertake placements for the relevant units in the dates described below, and should refer to the course map or their individual study plan as total placement days required may vary. Units that may require variation in total days and dates include EDU3001, EDU3002, EDU4007, EDU5013, EDU5017 and EDU5025.

Students will only complete one placement unit based on the instance they are enrolled in. E.g. If enrolled in EDU4007, you will complete one instance of the placement unit in the semester you have enrolled.

Student Information

If you are enrolled in the above-listed unit(s), unless advised otherwise, you must be available during the dates presented. Students should not have other commitments for these dates. Where make-up days are required, students must negotiate the additional day(s) directly with their placement agency and advise the Professional Experience Team.

Students who are unable to attend placement during the standard block dates must submit a Variation to Placement request via the WBL form. Variations to placement are usually only granted in exceptional circumstances and you will require supporting documentation.

If you are are unavailable to undertake placement for the standard block dates listed, your course progression and course graduation date may be impacted.

Students undertaking placements outside of Victoria may require a variation of dates in line with the school terms of the state they are completing placement in.

^ Students enrolled in a Bendigo Unit may need to negotiate make up days to cover the Bendigo Cup Public Holiday (Cup day holiday in Bendigo is Wednesday 29th October 2025) if their placement is affected. Victorian Public holidays and Term School holidays have been considered in these placement block dates.
